Saturday, September 25, 2010
8:00am - 4:30pm
Brookfield Zoo
Discovery Center
Brookfield, IL

ASRT - approved Continuing Education
for 8 Category A CEs

Mark Radonich
Instructor

Founder, Cultural Effect Consulting

As a Health Physicist and a former Certified MQSA Inspector (in 2001), Mark has devoted his career to improving organizational performance. He has spoken to public, private, and not-for-profit audiences and has provided continuing education services for RTs, mammographers, industrial hygienists, engineers, and other certified professions. Mark is now in wide demand as a trainer, workshop clinician, consultant, and speaker on mammography program quality, strategic, and organizational issues.

Presentation Topics

MQSA Guidance and News

Mammography QC Overview

Review and Comparison of Digital Mammography Unit QC Methods

(GE, Siemens, Hologic, Fuji, Fischer)

ASRT - approved Continuing Education
for 8 Category A CEs

Who should attend?

- Lead and Backup QC Technicians
- Mammographers
- Radiology/Mammography Program Managers
- Anyone interested in current Digital Mammography Technology and its proper use
- Curious souls

Mark's approach in training is making boring or difficult subjects/content accessible, applicable, and relevant. We know that learning happens better for most folks when they can enjoy the time spent and are able to interact.

If you like sitting and listening to droning lecture all day long, this seminar isn't for you!
